

DESCRIPTION

Host accommodation consists of living in a home with any family members who reside at the home. All of our hosts are situated between travel zones 2-5 and are either within walking distance to the bus stops, underground tube network or the over-ground network which takes you into the Centre of London for schools or sightseeing. Hosts come from various ethnic origins and are carefully chosen on their friendliness, hospitality and willingness to welcome international students/guests into their family home. Many families have been accommodating students/guests for many years.
